War Increases Mental Diseases.

Figures compiled by the New York state hospital commission show that 5,000 more patients have been admitted to the state hospitals during the forty-four months since war was declared than for the similar period of time prior to the beginning of hostilities. The admissions prior to the war being 30,310, as against 35,311 afterward. The state hospitals are actually housing 6,500 more patients than they were built to accommodate.

Catarhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Catarhal Deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts through the blood on the Mucous Surface of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running nose or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be removed and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing may be destroyed forever. Many cases of Deafness are caused by Catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the Mucous Surface. ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for any case of Catarhal Deafness that cannot be cured by HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE.

More or Less Good Reason Why Listener Considered It Great Oratorical Effort.

They are telling a good joke on Will Upshaw. He was up the other day, and was the interesting center of several groups of members who had heard of the "Prohibition Cytherea" of Georgia.

While talking in the lobby to one of these groups of forthcoming associates, Congressman Garrett of Houston, Tex., passed after exclaiming, "Did you ever hear Garrett speak?" asked Upshaw of the members of his group.

"Yes," they all replied in unison. "The most masterly address, the most beautiful, most stirring address I ever heard in all my life of association with great orators, fell from the lips of that great Texan and statesman one night at Dallas," said Upshaw.

"What subject was Garrett speaking?" queried one of the party, rather interested.

"He was introducing me," replied Upshaw solemnly.—Atlanta Constitution.

True Genius.

How grateful we are to the man of the world who obeys the morale, as in humility, and in the obligation to serve mankind. True genius always has these inspirations.—Emerson.

Practical Estimate.

"Did you say Higgins is a good loser?" "Yes." "Why even when his luck is worst he never loses more than two or three dollars?" "That's what I call a good loser."

BOSCHEE'S SYRUP

Why use ordinary cough remedies when Boschee's Syrup has been used so successfully for fifty-one years in all parts of the United States for coughs, bronchitis, colds settled in the throat, especially lung troubles? It gives the patient a good night's rest, free from coughing, with easy expectoration in the morning, gives nature a chance to soothe the inflamed parts, throw off the disease, helping the patient to regain his health. Made in America and sold for more than half a century.—Adv.

THAT "LAST STRAW" AGAIN

This Time It Meant Real Tragedy in the Lives of Two Young and Loving Mortals.

"It's the last straw," she exclaimed bitterly.

She tapped on the door with her right foot, always, with her, a sign of reproved passion.

"The last straw," she repeated. He shuffled his feet in embarrassment.

"The going," she cried. "I would not stay here another second, even for a moment."

And she swept out, and there was nothing left for him to do but follow. "I didn't know it was the last straw, or I wouldn't have taken it," he apologized miserably.

And she, who had never stopped a moment without a straw in her life, and never intended to, shuffled sorrowfully, without replying, and refrained from taunting him in when they reached her house.

Not Us.

An old man, rich in this world's goods, who had accumulated ninety-six years of age in his credit, went to a fortune teller to see what the future held for him.

"Sir," said the seer, as she grasped his palm and looked into his startled eyes, "I predict for you a long life." Then she added as he in his exuberance of joy handed her a yellowback of large denomination: "With plenty of money." Now she would gaily that such had received the worth of the old man's money?

Everything we need is within reach here and now, because it is within us. Look within for the treasure mine.

America's Immortals

Most striking instances of gallantry for which the Distinguished Service Cross has been awarded

No fiction has ever presented more amazing tales of physical prowess and gallantry under fire than are disclosed by the following official reports of deeds of American fighters in France for which the Distinguished Service Cross has been awarded. These were selected by General Pershing's staff out of hundreds of reports telling of remarkable bravery and fortitude displayed by American soldiers in action.

SIDNEY E. MANNING,

Corporal, Co. G, 167th Infantry.

Corporal Manning received the Distinguished Service Cross for conspicuous gallantry near Reuvennes, France, July 28, 1918. Corporal Manning was in charge of an automatic rifle squad during an assault by his battalion on the strongly fortified heights overlooking the Moselle river for the purpose of exploiting the successful passage of the stream. During the advance on the hill his platoon commander was killed and just as the crest was reached the platoon sergeant was wounded. Corporal Manning then assumed command of the platoon, which was near the center of the assaulting line and was meeting with desperate resistance. Though he himself was severely wounded and was the only survivor of his squad, this soldier led forward the 35 effectives remaining in the platoon against an enemy strong point which was wired, entrenched and defended by machine guns and dominated the entire Otruy valley. He was repeatedly wounded, but he succeeded in getting a foothold at this strong point with but seven men remaining with him. While the latter consolidated their position under his direction, the platoon on the flank, he held off a considerable number of the enemy 50 yards away by fire from his automatic rifle. He remained in this position until the entire line had been consolidated, when he crawled back to shelter, having received nine wounds. Mrs. Lizzie Manning, his mother, lives in Flomatin, Ala.

JOHN C. VILLEPIQUE,

Corporal, Company M, 118th Infantry.

For unusual bravery displayed in action at Vaux-Audry, France, October 15, 1918, Corp. Villepique was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross. Having been sent out with two other soldiers to scout through the village of Vaux-Audry, Corp. Villepique met with strong resistance from enemy machine gun fire, which killed one of his men and wounded the other. Continuing his advance, without aid, 500 yards in advance of his platoon and in the face of artillery and machine gun fire, he encountered four of the enemy in a dugout, whom he attacked and killed with a hand grenade. Crawling forward to a point 150 yards in advance of his first encounter he rushed a machine gun nest, killing four and capturing six of the enemy, and taking two light machine guns. After being joined by his platoon, he was severely wounded in the arm. Corp. Villepique's home is with his mother, Mrs. P. T. Villepique, 1517 Lytleton street, Camden, S. C.

GEORGE DILBOY,

Private, Company H, 103rd Infantry.

Private Dilboy won the Distinguished Service Cross for conspicuous gallantry near Belleau, France, July 18, 1918. He died from wounds received at that time. After his platoon had gained its objective along a railroad embankment, Private Dilboy, accompanying his platoon leader to reconnoiter the ground beyond, was suddenly fired upon by an enemy machine gun from one hundred yards. From a standing position on the railroad track, fully exposed to view, he opened fire at once, but failing to silence the gun, rushed forward with his bayonet fixed, through a wheat field toward the gun emplacement, falling within twenty-five yards of the gun with his right leg nearly severed above the knee, and with several bullet holes in his body, with undaunted courage, he continued to fire into the emplacement from a prone position, killing two of the enemy and dispersing the rest of the crew. Private Dilboy's home was in Boston, Mass.

JAMES C. DOZIER,

First Lieutenant, Company G, 113th Infantry.

For conspicuous bravery after being wounded near Montbrehan, France, October 8, 1918, Lieut. Dozier was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross. In command of two platoons, Lieut. Dozier was painfully wounded in the shoulder early in the attack, but he continued to lead his men, displaying the highest bravery and skill. When his command was held up by heavy machine gun fire, he disposed his men in the best cover available and with a soldier continued forward to attack a machine gun nest. Creeping up to the position in the face of intense fire, he killed the entire crew with hand grenades and his pistol, and a little later captured a number of Germans who had taken refuge in a dugout nearby. Lieut. Dozier's home is with his father, John H. Dozier, 524 Anshurst street, Rock Hill, S. C.

GEORGE G. MUMFTRY,

Captain, 308th Infantry.

Captain Mumftry received the Distinguished Service Cross for conspicuous gallantry in action at Charlevaux, in the Forest d'Argonne, France, October 2 to 8, 1918. Captain Mumftry commanded a battalion which was cut off and surrounded by the enemy and, although wounded in the knee by shrapnel on October 4, and suffering great pain, continued throughout the entire period to encourage his officers and men with a resolute optimism that contributed largely toward preventing panic and disorder among the troops who were without food, cut off from communication with our lines, October 4, during a heavy barrage, he personally directed and supervised the moving of the wounded to shelter before he himself sought shelter. October 6 he was wounded in the shoulder by a German grenade, but continued personally to organize and direct the defense against the German attack on the position until the attack was defeated. He continued to direct and command his troops, refusing relief, and personally led his men out of the position after assistance arrived, before permitting himself to be taken to the hospital October 8. During this period the successful defense of the position was due largely to his efforts. His wife is at 22 East 70th street, New York.

HAROLD A. FURLONG,

First Lieutenant, Company M, 353rd Infantry.

Lieut. Furlong won the Distinguished Service Cross for bravery in action near Banterville, France, November 1, 1918. Immediately after the opening of the attack in the Bois de Banterville, when his company was held up by severe machine gun fire from the front, which killed his company commander and several soldiers, Lieut. Furlong moved out in advance of the line with great courage and coolness, crossing an open space several hundred yards wide. Taking up a position behind the line of machine guns, he closed in on them, one at a time, killing a number of the enemy with his rifle, putting four machine gun nests out of action, and driving twenty German prisoners into our lines. Lieut. Furlong's home is at 2950 West Grand boulevard, Detroit, Mich.

MICHAEL J. PERKINS,

Private, First Class, Company D, 101st Infantry.

Private Perkins (deceased) was decorated for conspicuous gallantry in action with the enemy at Belleau Bois, France, October 27, 1918. He voluntarily crawled alone to a German "pill box" machine gun emplacement, from which grenades were being thrown at his platoon. Awaiting his opportunity, when the door was again opened and another grenade thrown over him, he threw a bomb inside, bursting the door open, and then, drawing his trench knife, rushed into the emplacement. In a hand-to-hand struggle he killed and wounded several of the occupants and captured twenty-five prisoners, at the same time silencing seven machine guns. Michael Perkins, his father, lives at 247 K street, South Boston, Mass.

CARL F. PAYSON,

Sergeant, Company C, 125th Infantry.

Sergt. Payson (deceased) received the Distinguished Service Cross for conspicuous gallantry in action with the enemy at Cierges, northeast of Chateau-Thierry, France, August 1, 1918. During the attack made by his company on the village of Cierges, Sergt. Payson was mortally wounded in the head by a machine gun bullet. He succeeded in keeping his feet, however, and with the attacking wave, encouraging them. By his strong will power he instilled in them all the spirit of fearlessness. Mrs. Minnie Timberman, his mother, lives in Monroe, Mich.

GARY EVANS FOSTER,

Sergeant, Company F, 118th Infantry.

Sergt. Foster, whose home is at Inman, S. C., was decorated for conspicuous bravery displayed near Montbrehan, France, October 8, 1918. When his company was held up by violent machine gun fire from a sunken road, Sergt. Foster, with an officer, went forward to attack the hostile machine gun nests. The officer was wounded, but Sergt. Foster continued on alone in the face of the heavy fire and by effective use of hand grenades and his pistol killed several of the enemy and captured eighteen.

WILLIAM M. FEIGLE,

Sergeant, 5th Regiment, U. S. Marine Corps.

Sergt. Feigle upheld the traditions of the marines and was decorated for conspicuous intrepidity at Beaumont, France, November 10, 1918. While an ammunition train was passing through the town one of the trucks was struck by a shell and set on fire. Knowing that it would soon explode and kill all those in the vicinity, Sergt. Feigle jumped on the truck and drove it to the outskirts of the town, thereby saving the lives of at least thirty-five people.
